

My Favorite Book

by Regina McClinton Jackson

Book Description

Designed like a scrapbook, your child, grandchild, niece, nephew, or a preschooler becomes the star in this book. While it is designed to encourage preschoolers to read, children will love to have it read to them. Preschoolers will learn how to recognize the alphabet, colors, and numbers 1 through 20. The scrapbook introduces preschoolers to rhyming words, different foods, and familiar animals. Phonics, the foundation for learning how to read, is emphasized by being placed on the book cover. Proper punctuation is demonstrated throughout the book, with definitions of the most common punctuation marks located in the back of the book for an easy explanation by the adult. The book even has a section that teaches proper hand washing to prevent the spread of disease. It is absolutely essential that preschoolers develop a positive self-image, which will supplant any false self-perception that may be in the mind of a preschooler. This book will enable children to learn more about themselves, especially how they look, and how their appearance is constantly changing. Children will imagine themselves taking positive action, encouraging an adventurous attitude towards life. Due to the design of this book, you can change the pictures as often as you like, or just purchase additional volumes of My Favorite Book.

About the Author

Mrs. Regina McClinton Jackson has lived a full and exciting life with her husband of 27 years, and her two boys: Elijah and Joshua, both currently in their 20's. Prior to meeting her husband Elijah, Mrs. Jackson had graduated from the University of Houston. Just shortly after her marriage Mrs. Jackson earned her second degree from the University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston. Mrs. Jackson also received a Master of Arts in Teaching from Grand Canyon University.

While raising her two children, Mrs. Jackson continued to expand on her education and her personal endeavors with theater as a member of the "The Uniques," where she has been active since 1995. Currently Mrs. Jackson is teaching a medical laboratory course and a health science technology class to high school students in Harris County, Texas. During her time as a teacher and a mother, she has seen the need to properly educate students on the basics of phonics, numbers and general sentence structure.

My Favorite Book was first developed as a teaching tool for her two sons. Mrs. Jackson knows the value of a good education, and thus she has persuaded the publication of My Favorite Book, in order to help children of all backgrounds to get a good head start in learning.
